

Norma J. Angle

Graveside services and interment for Norma J. Angle, 55, were held on Monday, April 13, 1992, at 2 p.m., at the Wheatland Cemetery, with Pastor Marlin Driskel of the First Baptist Church officiating.

Mrs. Angle died Thursday, April 9, at the DePaul Hospital in Cheyenne, following a long illness.

She was born March 21, 1937, in Raleigh, Ill., the daughter of Brady and Lena (Woolard) Gobin. She was reared and educated in Raleigh, and in 1952, she moved with her family to Harco, Ill. It was in Harco that she had her five children.

On June 21, 1975, she was married to Dallas Jack Angle in Harrisburg, Ill., and the couple later moved to Cheyenne where they made their home until the time of her death.

Norma enjoyed crocheting and she loved people, especially children.

She is survived by her husband, Dallas Jack Angle of Cheyenne, two daughters, Christine Wilson of Illinois and Arline Roark of Indiana, and three sons, Dennis Roark of Illinois, David Roark and Norman Cox, both of Indiana.

She is also survived by her mother, Lena Gobin of Illinois, two sisters, Claire Mae Lawrence and Joyce Kurfman, both of Indiana, a brother, Edward Gobin of Illinois, and four grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her father.

A memorial to the American Diabetes Foundation would be equally appreciated by the family.

The Platte Funeral Chapel of Wheatland was in charge of arrangements.
