

BAKER, GEORGE EDGAR
November 30, 1893-October 2, 1950

Born in Central City, Nebraska, November 30, 1893, George Edgar Baker was found dead in his room at the LaRamie Hotel October 4, at 10:30 pm. by Jack Brown and Charles Sylvester. He had been dead since October 2, according to Coroner Schrader. Mr. Baker died of a heart condition.

Mr. Baker had been a rancher and had lived here 40 years.

He was a member of A.F. and A.M. No. 16 of Wheatland and V.F.W. also a World War I veteran.

Ed Baker, as he was known, is survived by four brothers and six sisters.

Two of the sisters, Mrs. Fred Baker of Archer, Nebraska and Mrs. James McMahan of Central City, Nebraska were here for the services which were held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Schrader's, Rev. Henry Heaton officiating.

Burial was made in the Wheatland cemetery with the Masonic rites at the graveside.

Pallbearers were W.E. Dover, Guy Montgomery, George Dodge, Frank Boyd and Hal Sommers.