

Rosalind Bealey

February 21, 1914-August 5, 2000

Rosalind Bealey, 86, of Cheyenne and Centennial died Aug. 5 at Ivinson Memorial Hospital in Laramie. She was born February 21, 1914 on a farm north of Wheatland to Jesse and Louise Bealey. She graduated from Wheatland High School and the University of Wyoming and taught school in Uva, Wheatland, Sheridan and retired in 1978 after teaching 32 years in Cheyenne.

Miss Bealey was a member of St. Christopher's Episcopal Church, a life member of the Centennial Valley Historical Association and the National Education Association. She was a leader and camp counselor with the Girl Scouts and enjoyed woodworking, sewing and tatting and cooking. She spent much time at her cabin in Centennial where she enjoyed many outdoor activities.

She is survived by her sister Doris Bealey of Keizer, Ore. and a brother Charles Bealey of Denver, twelve nieces and nephews and a close friend, Jane Houston. She was preceded in death by her parents, four sisters and two brothers.

Memorial services will be held at the Centennial Community Church on Aug. 14, at 11 a.m. with Fr. Tim Solon of St. Christopher's in Cheyenne officiating. Graveside services will be held at the family plot in Wheatland on Aug. 15 with Pastor Paul Ostrander of the Centennial Church officiating. A Cheyenne Memorial Service will be held later in August.

Friends may contribute to the Centennial Valley Historical Association, St. Christopher's Church or a charity of their choosing.