

BERG, FRED
?-September 14, 1915

Fred Berg, aged 18 years, died Tuesday morning from cardiac dropsy and Bright's disease, from which he had been a chronic sufferer for nearly two years. He was a foster son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Berg, farmers living near Wheatland. It was known six months ago that there was little or no chance of recovery, but he was placed in the hospital and everything possible was done to lessen his suffering until the inevitable end came.
