

BLUNCK, GEORGE DENNIS

Geo. Blunck, an employee of the Osgood Johnson Ranch, was killed Sunday evening about six o'clock, by the horse which he was riding, collided with another horse of a bunch he was driving in, and his horse falling, broke the rider's neck. Mr. Blunck had been employed at this ranch for some time and was considered a fine young man and a trust-worthy employee. He funeral was held Tuesday from the Congregational Church and was largely attended. Internment was in the Wheatland Cemetery, funeral in charge of Harry H. Pepper.