

Arnold R. Bomgardner 1915 to 1997

Memorial services will be held for Arnold R. Bomgardner, 81, at 3 p.m. Sunday July 20, 1997 at the Wheatland Bible Church with Rev. Delbert Dick officiating. Burial will follow at the Wheatland Cemetery.

Bomgardner died in Arizona at the Casa Grande Regional Medical Center. He was born Nov. 14, 1915 at Alliance, Neb. (Box Butte Co.) to Arthur S. and Fern (Lorance) Bomgardner. He was raised on the Bomgardner ranch on the Laramie River in Platte county Wyoming and attended the Guernsey public schools, graduating in 1934.

After marrying Hazel Harvey of Slater, Aug. 31, 1936, the couple made their home on the Slater Flats where they farmed until 1961. Bomgardner became an electronics technician and they moved to Wheatland and opened Arnold's TV, servicing television and CB radio units. Arnold also managed the Wheatland Cable TV System from 1964 to 1970.

The Bomgardners retired to Arizona in 1978 where Arnold continued his electronics as a hobby.

He was preceded in death by his parents. Survivors include his wife, Hazel; son and wife, R. Lyle and Leah of Billings Mont.; daughter and husband, Leilani and James Watt of Jackson Hole, Wyo.; five grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren; sister Edna Miller of Cedaredge, Colo. and Brother Vernon of Wheatland.

Cremation was arranged by Simes Mortuaries of Casa Grande and interment by Platte Funeral Chapel of Wheatland.

The family suggest donations be given to the Platte County Nursing Home.
