

BOWEN, DEAN CHARLES

June 7, 1929-June 9, 1931

Dean Charles Bowen, age two years and two days, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bownen, died in Denver about 5 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The little fellow, during his short life span, fought bravely against great odds and lost. His mother and father were with him when death came.

This morning, Thursday, the mother and father left Denver with the body of their little son. At Cheyenne, they were met by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Buechner.

They plan to reach Wheatland early this afternoon, placing the remains in charge of the Copley Mortuary.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Buechner home at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow, Friday, by the Rev. W. Hewton Ward, rector of the All Saints Episcopal church. Burial will be made in the local cemetery.
