

BOYD, JOHN
1845-1923

Tidings of the death of John Boyd, pioneer resident of this vicinity, arrived in Wheatland yesterday from Denver, where Mr. Boyd passed away in a hospital while enroute home from Phoenix, Ariz., where he had been spending the winter.

It is believed his death occurred unexpectedly, altho no definite details had reached here as The Times goes to press. It has been reported that he stopped off in Denver to visit his children and was seized with an attack of acute appendicitis, necessitating an operation he did not survive.

The body is expected in Wheatland on the morning train Friday, and the funeral will be held in the Congregational church Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Additional details will be published next week.
