

BOYD, MARIA
1858-April 30, 1914

Mrs. John Boyd died in a hospital in Denver at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, following an operation for removal of cancer.

She had been in failing health for a number of years. She was taken to Denver last week in the hopes that the operation would, in a measure, restore her health. She underwent the operation last Saturday, and until Monday noon seemed to be recovering, when she became very ill and passed away at eight o'clock the next morning.

She is survived by her husband, one son, J.C. Boyd, and three daughters, Miss Eva Boyd, Mrs. Arthur Moody of Denver, and Mrs. Kennedy of Thermopolis.

The remains were brought to Wheatland yesterday and funeral services will be held today.
