

James Chaplin dies suddenly at home here

2-14-1964
Born in Cheyenne, Wyoming on January 5, 1891 to John and Charlotte Lawson Chaplin. James Douglas Chaplin died suddenly at his home February 14, 1964.

The deceased resided in Cheyenne until 1923 when he moved to Wheatland with the Wyoming Development Company. He was employed by the Company until 1940 when he became an employee of the Stock Growers Bank, where he remained until 1951. He then went into the insurance business. Mr. Chaplin and Gladys Long were married in Denver, Colo., on April 21 1924.

Chaplin was affiliated with AF & AM No. 11, Wyoming Consistory No. 1, American Legion and the Congregational Church. He also served in World War I.

Dr. H. H. Lindeman officiated at the funeral services held in the United Church of Christ on Monday at 2:00 p.m. Burial was in the Wheatland cemetery with Masonic graveside services. Ward Goodrich, Lawrence Rosentreter, J. A. Cole, Leo Nickel, Earl Flaharty and Ed Garrett served as pallbearers.

Relatives left to mourn include Mrs. Chaplin; a brother David of Spokane, Wash., and two sisters, Mrs. Charlotte A. Smith and Miss Ruth M. Chaplin both of Cheyenne.