

CHASE, MAUDE BELCHER
1898-May 12, 1917

Another Wheatland home is sorrowing over the death of a loved one, for Maudie, beloved wife of Frank E. Chase, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.L. Belcher, has passed from earthly things into the long long rest.

Death came early Saturday morning as a welcome relief from sugaring, the grim angel following close upon the ushering into the world of a little life, Mrs. Chase having given birth to a son at the Wheatland hospital a few days previous.

Mrs. Chase was born and reared in Wheatland and it has always been her home. In June 1915, she married F.E. Chase. A young woman of high character and ideals, an ideal wife and mother, a real and worthwhile woman, her departure rings grief not only to the bereaved family but to all those who were privileged to know and love her.
