

COLE, WALTER A.

December 27, 1893-February 11, 1932

Walter A. Cole, former Wheatland resident, passed away at Basin, Friday morning, after a sickness of long duration. The deceased suffered from tuberculosis and been in the Basin sanitarium for about two years.

Mr. Cole was born December 27, 1893, and was the son-in-law of A.J. Faries, who lives east of Wheatland. Mrs. Cole had made her home in Basin during her husband's illness, and was with him at the time of his death. The body arrived in Wheatland Saturday evening.

Funeral services were held from the Baptist church Monday afternoon with Rev. Chas. F. Thomas performing the last rites. Burial was made in the Wheatland cemetery by Longwith-Richards Funeral Home.
