BY LOUISE POPPENHEDER

Word has been received by relatives and friends here of the death of Mrs. Clara Dillon in Lomac, Calif., on Jan. 3. Mrs. Dillon was a member of the Frank Pospishil family, the youngest of three daughters. Her only brother died when a young man. She was the last survivor. Mrs. Edwin (Edna) Cochran is a niece. The late Mrs. Leland (Alice) Clark was a daughter. Two sons, Camille Albach and Clair Dillon, and three daughters mourn their mother's death. The name Pospishel is well remembered, being progressive, influential people. A number of civic and business buildings are monumental, having been built by and with native stone from their rock quarries. Mr. Pospishel died in July, 1924. Although years have gone by, often his contributions to Luray are recalled and appreciated.
