

DYCE, CHARLES W.
October 22, 1878-October 29, 1934

The festivities of a Republican rally at Slater Monday night were dulled when Charles W. Dyce was stricken with a heart attack and died almost immediately, surrounded by his neighborhood friends.

Mr. Dyce was born October 22, 1878 in Ontario, Canada. He came to the United States when two years old and lived in Coleman, South Dakota until 1912 when he came to Slater where he has since resided. In 1909 he was married to Sophia Yiirs Dyce and to them were born four children, two preceding him in death. He is survived by his wife and two children, Ruth and Gale Dyce of Slater, and five step-children, Walter Dyce of Sarnia, Ontario; Emma McBirnie of Chugwater; James of Saratoga; Elsie of Cheyenne; Reuben of Chugwater; and two sisters, Mary Moore and Margaret Leash of Coleman, South Dakota and one brother, John Dyce of Landis, Saakatchewan.

It is understood that funeral services under direction of the Copley Funeral Home will be conducted Friday morning in the Methodist church.

The family have the sympathy of all in their hour of sadness.
