

FAY, F.L.

?-December 10, 1920

F.L. Fay, aged 65 years, died at Lincoln, Nebr. Last Friday and the body was brought to Wheatland for burial, the funeral to be held at the Congregational church Thursday afternoon. Deceased was the father of H.H. Fay, who came to Wheatland about a year ago and resides on a farm northwest of town. Upon hearing of his father's death, the son left for Lincoln to arrange for bringing the body to this place. Death came instantly while Mr. Fay was walking on the street, apoplexy being assigned as the cause. He had planned to come to Wheatland to make his home with his son after the first of the year. Two sisters arrived on Tuesday from Los Angeles to attend the funeral.
