

HICKEY, EDWARD P.

?-June 26, 1953

Edward P. Hickey, about 45, was found dead in his hotel room at the LaRamie Hotel in Wheatland, last Saturday morning, June 27. He had been in town only five days and had worked three days as a bricklayer for Arlo Goodrich.

An autopsy was performed, and while it will be a few days before results will be returned, all indications that Hickey died from natural causes.

The coroner's office is now attempting to locate relatives of the deceased.