

O. O. Hohnholt Dies Suddenly At His Home

2-4-1971
Oliver Otto Hohnholt died suddenly at his home Thursday, Feb. 4, 1971 following a long illness.

Mr. Hohnholt was born at Broomfield, Nebr., Jan. 1, 1904 and was married to Ruth Helm VanScoik June 8, 1929, at Torrington. He had made his home in Wheatland since 1916, where he ran a tire and battery shop prior to his illness.

He was affiliated with the First Baptist Church and the IOOF lodge.

Survivors are his wife, Ruth, two sons Buddy of Wheatland and Clyde of Casper; two brothers, Everett of Sunrise and Henry of Kearney, Nebr.; three sisters, Mrs. Julius Miller, Dwyer, Mrs. Elsie King, Guernsey, Mrs. Cecelia Hill, Oceolo, Ia., and six grandchildren.

Services were held Monday, Feb. 8, 1971 at the First Baptist Church with Rev. Doug. Neumann officiating.

Pallbearers were Albert Prather, Wm. Dawson, Homer Trimble, Claude Fould, Robert Daly, and Ed Musselman.

Schrader's chapel was in charge of arrangements.