

Milton Dooley Holloway

6-26-1981

Milton Dooley Holloway, 71, died Friday, June 26, 1981 at the DePaul Hospital in Cheyenne.

Milton, the son of Richard and Rose Dooley Holloway was born July 12, 1909 in Clarksburg, Mo. He moved with his family to McFadden, Wyo., in 1918, and attended school there. He worked in California for a short time with an oil company. He accepted a position with the Ohio Oil Company in McFadden in 1934, and continued working for this company until his retirement in 1971. He was married to Jill E. Kinginger in Laramie on Dec. 22, 1951. He and his wife moved to Wheatland in 1970. He served on the board for Eastern Area Agency, Wyoming Senior Citizens, Inc., and the AARP. He was a member of the Laramie Masonic Lodge AF & AM No. 3, Wheatland Housing Authority, McFadden School Board for 25 years, Rock River-McFadden Lions Club, and served many years on the Laramie Peak Boy Scout Council.

He is survived by his wife, Jill, of Wheatland; three sons, Huland Holloway of Melbeta, Neb., James and Paul Holloway both of Wheatland; one daughter, Margaret Meranda of Laramie; two sisters, Agnes Nelson of California and Lura Hadeen of Colorado; and seven grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents; one son, Malvin Holloway, and one brother, Cecil Holloway.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, June 30, at 10:30 a.m. at the United Church of Christ in Wheatland with the Rev. Frank Moore officiating. Interment was in the Wheatland Cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were Dale Iverson, Howard Brokaw, Trevis Vanlandingham, Clayton Vanlandingham, Mitchell Holloway and Monte Holloway.

A memorial has been established to the Platte County Services for Seniors. The Schrader-Prell Funeral Home of Wheatland was in charge of the arrangements.