

HOWELL, WILLIAM L.
?-July 17, 1905

W.L. Howell, who had been seriously ill for several weeks, passed away at the family home, 4 miles northwest of town, on Monday, July 17, at 11:00 p.m. Death was due to typhoid fever with an abscess of the liver.

The deceased was highly respected by all his acquaintances, and leaves a wife and seven children, six boys and a girl, to mourn his demise. Three brothers, M.W., S.E. and J.A. Howell, also reside at this place. The family moved here from Missouri several years since.

Funeral services were held Wednesday and interment was made in the Wheatland cemetery.
