

Services for Alta Marr, 90, who died Feb. 29, in Mesa, Ariz., were held Tuesday, March 6, in the Schrader-Prell Funeral Chapel at 10:30 a.m. with Rev. Virgil Lamm officiating.

Alta M. Marr was born July 16, 1893, in Du Quoin, Ill., the daughter of John and Jeanetta Willeford. She spent her youth in Illinois coming to Wyoming in 1913.

She met and married Lee Marr in the Antelope Gap Community in May of 1914. The couple farmed in the Antelope Gap-Eagle Nest area until they retired to Mesa, Ariz. in 1965. Lee died in Mesa in 1970 and Alta spent her retirement years there.

Survivors include a daughter, Helen Marr Lehmkuhler of Mesa, Ariz., and a son, Bob Marr of Los Alamos, N. M. There are three grandchildren and three great grandchildren. One brother, Cecil, preceded her in death.

Memorial contributions in her name may be made to the Senior Citizen's Center or to the Laramie Peak Museum.

Burial was in the Wheatland Cemetery.

Schrader-Prell Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.
