Mrs. John McFarlane Passes to Long Rest At Her Home

Mrs. John McFarlane died at her home in Wheatland, Friday, December 14, at the age of 68 years, after a lingering illness lasting over six years, much of which had been spent in hospitals.

The deceased was born in West Virginia, her maiden name being Kate Oliver. She moved from that place with her parents to North Bend, Wisc. where she lived until her marriage to John McFarlane in 1877. Immediately after their marriage they came to Wyoming, where Mr. McFarlane had established his residence 11 years previous. They lived first at Cheyenne, moving from there to the McFarlane ranch near Owen, where they lived until her illness made it advisable to move to Wheatland. The children born to this union were: Mrs. Kate E. Atkinson, Ellen A. Prager, Agnes B. Shaw, Jennie B. Atkinson, John MacFarlane, David T. McFarlane.
