

James F. McGrew

August 23, 1905-June 1, 1999

James F. McGrew, 93, a resident of Chehalis since 1966, died June 1, 1999 at Providence Centralia Hospital in Centralia, Wash.

Mr. McGrew was born August 23, 1905 in Missouri. He was reared and attended in Wyoming and had worked as a farmer and mechanic most of his life in Wyoming, Idaho and Washington.

He enjoyed dancing at the Grange Hall and enjoyed taking care of his animals.

He was a member of the Chehalis Eagles

Lodge and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Survivors include his wife, Elmira McGrew of Chehalis; two sons, Larry McGrew of Chehalis and James J. McGrew of Centralia; two daughters, Winifred Leymaster and Elinor Shepard of Gresham, Ore.; and a step-daughter, Sandra Pace of Chehalis; nine grandchildren; six step-grandchildren and numerous great-grandchildren.

A service was held Monday, June 7 at Sticklin Funeral Chapel in Centralia. Interment will be in the Wheatland Cemetery.