

MICHACELLIS, JOSEPH

?-August 14, 1953

Joe Michacellis, age about 63, who was employed by Walter Norvell the past eleven years, was seriously injured Monday, when, in some manner, he was caught and dragged into a bean combine which he and Mr. Norvell were operating. At the time of the accident, Mr. Michacellis was alone with the machine. He was rushed to the Wheatland hospital, where he passed away the following day as a result of injuries received.

Mr. Michacellis was a native of Lithuania, and had been in the United States fifty-three years, living in Nebraska before coming to Wheatland. As far as it is known, he had no relatives and funeral arrangements are not complete at this time.