

MORRIS, JOHNATHAN M.

1901-January 11, 1923

NEWS ITEM: John Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Morris, was brought to the hospital Thursday, a week ago, suffering from a ruptured appendix and gangrene of the bowel. At the time of the operation general peritonitis was already well developed, making his condition hopeless. He put up a gallant fight for life, and death came at the end of a week with rather unexpected suddenness, due to a heart block. He had been a sufferer from heart trouble for a number of years.
