

Wm. Roudenbush dies here at 90

3- -1962
William A. Roudenbush passed away Wednesday morning at the Platte Memorial hospital. Funeral services will be conducted at the Schrader chapel Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Roudenbush observed his 90th birthday in January. He had no known living relatives. An itinerant printer by trade, the deceased at one time worked on the old Wheatland World many years ago. Later he left Wheatland and worked at various other newspapers, finally returning to Wheatland to spend his declining years.
