

SAXTON, WILLIAM.S.

?-April 1901

William S. Saxton, passed away last night at 10 o'clock, at the family home at this place. The old gentleman had been very feeble since he had a stroke of paralysis, nearly two years ago, and since the death of his wife in December last, his decline had been very rapid. For several weeks past, he's been confined indoors, and the enfeebled life gradually grew fainter, until the end came. The deceased was nearly 70 years of age.

Funeral services will be held today under Masonic auspices, under which order Mr. Saxton had been a member for a quarter of a century.
