

Diane K. Weaver

January 25, 1943 – March 12, 2006

Diane K. Weaver passed away on March 12, 2006, in Aurora, Colo., following a battle with cancer. Diane was born Jan. 25, 1943, in Wheatland to Lester and Esther Jones.

Diane grew up in Wheatland and graduated from Wheatland High School. She worked for Mt. Bell Telephone and at the Platte County Memorial Hospital in Wheatland.

She then moved to Colorado, where she worked for Colorado Saddlery for many years before going to work for the Denver Newspaper Agency, where she was employed at the time of her death.

She married Patrick A. Weaver in Wheatland on May 31, 1967. They were later divorced.

Diane is survived by two sons, Devon and Timothy Weaver of Aurora, Colo.; one sister, Marge Rinker and husband Keith of McPherson, Kans.; one brother, Bob Jones, of Denver; two granddaughters and several nieces and nephews. Diane was a loving mother and a very good friend to many. Her wish was to be cremated, and a memorial was held March 18, 2006, at Aspen Arvada Chapel in Aurora.

A memorial service and internment was held March 25 in Wheatland. Her remains will rest in the family plot beside her parents and two brothers who preceded her in death.
